As the Gater Sees It

By ALEX EDELSTEIN
Editor

Probably heading the college extra-curricular program at the present time is the "San Francisco State Day" at the Fair, in which State's most talented performers will strut their stuff. They will include a one hundred piece symphony orchestra, singers and dancers. Says Vern Rees, student Chairman "Our performers and performances will rival any other show on the island."

Say authoritative sources however, that three other organizations will be so honored the same day. That could be a damper; it should be more of an incentive for State students to trek over to the fair and show the island how.

Boiling it down, perhaps it doesn't mean too much publicity, but it does mean that State has done their part—and done it well.

Tonight the Assembly Ways and Means Committee will pass on Bill 347, which provides for the sale of the present Haight-Buchanan street property.

State officials estimate the holdings to sell for $450,000, the proceeds to be used in building construction at the Merced site. Reports say that there is little doubt that the measure will get the necessary 11 votes.

Crossing of the fingers by interested students however, would not be out of place.

State's theatre goers will enjoy a full evening of entertainment Friday evening, is the word, when Miss Jessie Caseboldt's English 126b class in play production presents four one-act plays and a monologue.

They include, "Never Too Old," "The Minuet," "Fleurette & Co." and "Ladies Alone." Miss Margaret Wuensch will also entertain with a monologue.

If they approach Miss Caseboldt's standards as set before, State theatre goers are destined for a fine evening of entertainment.

Entries in the current "Sweethearts" contest continue to be accepted and pennies float into the loan fund coffers, but it took until yesterday for Donald Duck to be entered. The kingdom of crackdom is sharpening its wits and gilding its lilies. Within the week you can expect to see Donald and his unannounced sweetheart forge into the lead. Such is not our assumption however. It is merely what has been extracted painfully from the pub office sage; he of the bumpy stride and falling arches.

We, truth to tell, have our favorite and are democratic. But, glory be, let there be no more Donald Ducks, Micky Mouses or fictionary characters. If you've got any pennies to throw away, give them to us and we'll get rid of them. You can depend on that.

* * *

Perhaps it is out of place in this column, but I would still like to take this means of expressing my thanks to those who supported me in the past election, and to assure those who did not of my sincere belief that they will support me in the future. I hope that we may have a bigger and better publication in the future. That shall be my job.

Alice Fratessa, in charge of arrangements, announced today that she had secured the Palace Hotel for the Bib 'n Tucker tea, to be held May 13.

She was chosen to head the committee at a meeting held last Thursday, in the Activities room, at which time the new club constitution was ratified. Plans were started for a club dance to take place May 12, with Betty Fisher appointed chairman.

Cowell Group Hear Chinese Talk, Plan Theater Party

Majors in international relations, under the direction of Mrs. Olive Cowell, are meeting for a Chinese dinner and theater party on May 5. The dinner is to be held at the Shanghai Low Cafe, 532 Grant Avenue.

Mrs. Kiang Kang-hu, who has just arrived from Peking, will be the guest of honor. Mrs. Kiang is the wife of Dr. Kiang Kang-hu, noted scholar in China. His book on Chinese civilization has just been published. Mrs. Kiang will talk on conditions in China and afterwards act as interpreter for those attending the theater party.

Plans will be discussed at the dinner for the further development of the World Affairs Forum under the leadership of international relations majors. This forum is attracting many students who participate in debates on world affairs every Thursday at 12:30 in room 208.

NEW CAMPUS HOPES RAISED

Second Hearing For Shelley Sale Measure

SACRAMENTO, CALIF., May 1, 1939.—The second hearing of San Francisco State College's new campus proposal will take place here tonight when the Assembly Ways and Means committee reconsiders Senate Bill 347, by John F. Shelley, which provides for the sale of their present Haight-Buchanan street property.

State officials estimate the holding to sell for approximately $450,000; the proceeds to be used in building construction at the new Ingleside-Lake Merced site.

Last Tuesday night the committee refused to let the measure go to the floor of the Assembly because of one negative vote, which prevented the bill from receiving the necessary eleven ayes required for a "do pass" recommendation.

At the same meeting last week, the committee placed their approval on Shelley's companion bill, S. B. 261 which appropriates $300,000 for the purchase of the Ingleside property.

Dr. Alexander Roberts, college president, and Cliff Worth, student body president, will represent San Francisco State at the hearing.

A larger attendance is expected at the meeting tonight than last week when only 11 out of 21 members were able to attend. The bill will be brought up and an immediate roll call taken. There is little doubt among political observers that S. B. 347 will get the necessary 11 ayes. The two bills will then go to the Assembly where their chance of passing is favorable. A Two-thirds vote will be required as both propositions are emergencies.

An opposition Assembly group, led by Ray Williamson and Dan Gallagher of San Francisco, who wish to keep the College in their district, will attempt to block passage of the new campus proposal.

Macbeth Will Brood At Fred Burk Theater

Costumes of the primitive but colorful Anglo Saxon period will be featured in the presentation of "Macbeth" in Fredric Burk Auditorium on Friday, May 5 at 8:15, according to Norbert Nichols, who will portray the title role in the drama.

With a running time of little more than two hours, the play is scheduled to be over by ten-thirty, enabling the audience to attend the Phi Epsilon Mu dance in the Women's Gym.

Special emphasis is being put on clear diction, as much of the play's meaning depends on the interpretation of the lines.

With the addition of two people to the cast, thirty actors will participate in the presentation. Wade Brummal will portray the role of Seyton, a servant in the retinue of Macbeth. Eleven-year-old Billy Gainer, a pupil of John Muir School, will appear as the son of Macduff.

All State students and their friends are invited to attend "Macbeth", and no admission charges are to be made. The production is under the joint sponsorship of Miss Jessie Casebolt and Dr. Elias T. Arnesen. Direction is in charge of a group of students.

Sweetheart Contest Winners Announced At Friday Nite Hop

AMS Have Surprise Door Prizes, Music By Rugolo For Annual Dance; Phi Epsilon Mu Will Present Trophies

With hopes for a warm spring evening, with hopes for plenty of Staters with springy feet and with hopes that the winners of Phi Epsilon Mu's spring and campus sweethearts contest don't go Hollywood and leave the dance inflated with high hopes; the Associated Men's Students will throw their semi-annual gym dance Friday night as a prelude to State Day at the Fair.

With the presentation of two splendid trophies by Phi Epsilon Mu to the fortunate winners of the sweethearts contest, plus a free trip to the Fair, as the scheduled main event of a promised three-ring circus on the dance floor, the A. M. S. looks toward the affair as the social success of the season.

RUGULO PLAYS

In ring number one will be the contestants for the spring sweethearts contest; in ring number two will be Pete Rugulo and his popular swing sessionists; in ring number three will be the surprise door prizes to be given to the holders of the winning stubs—the long end of the campus sweethearts voting ticket. All this, plus the added attraction of the State students themselves, dancing as the featured attaction of a celebration jig—getting warmed up for the hot-time at the Worlds Fair the following day.

VOTING ENDS

Voting ends Thursday for the sweethearts, and there is still plenty of time to put your favorites out into the lead with a few penny votes. And all these pennies go to a good cause—the replenishing of State's none too large, and very necessary loan fund.

As the votes will not be counted again until Thursday, the leaders last announced in the Golden Gater are still on top. Thelma Rastad and Dave Schiller are leading the girls and boys respectively.

Newman Club Closes Year With Election, Party At Siena House

Days Of '49' Theme To Be Observed Through Costumes, Decorations

Bringing the year to a close, Newman Club will hold a combination election meeting and party at Siena House on Wednesday, May 3.

With the "days of '49" as a theme, those attending will wear costumes of the early pioneer days. According to the committee in charge of arrangements, the club rooms will be decorated in a manner appropriate to the spirit of the occasion. Refreshments will be served.

Highlighting the evening, members of Newman Alumni will present a skit telling of the sad plight of "Little Nell". The cast will include Jack Murphy, Jim Kilkenny and Dick Coughlin.

At the last meeting, nominations were made. Those selected as candidates for office included: president, Wade Brummal a unanimous choice; vice president, Gertrude Egan and Dorothy Thomas; secretary, Mary Bowers and Jane Butler; treasurer, Pete Padilla and James Synan; sergeant-at-arms, Tommy Bears and Tommy Beggs. The executive board will be chosen at the beginning of next semester.

GETS DEGREE

Catherine Regina Dwyer, State graduate, received a non-degree Kindergarten-Primary Credential after faculty vote.

Miss Dwyer graduated in the spring of thirty-five, receiving her Bachelor of Arts Degree and Elementary credential.

Forensic Council Prepares For Big Debate Tourney

With entries pouring in, the semi-annual debating tournament slated for this Friday and Saturday is expected to be the outstanding affair for prep school speakers this semester.

FORENSIC COUNCIL PIONEERS

The Forensic Council follows its policy of pioneering in high school debating by enlarging its contest to two days; because previous experience has shown that one day is not enough to fairly eliminate the large field of entrants that flock from all parts of the Pacific Coast.

CUPS AND MEDALS AWARDED

Gold cups will be awarded the winners and runners-up in the divisions of Debate, Men's Oratory, Women's Oratory, and Extempore Speech. With individual medals to be given to the victorious contestants as a memento of their being elected to the title of "California State Champion" in his or her field.

Another obstacle to a successful tournament has been removed through the co-operation of Dean Mary A. Ward and Miss Florence Vance, Registrar, when they guaranteed sufficient rooms for the event.

PUBLIC AND JUDGES INVITED

The public is cordially invited to attend the Eighth Semi-annual Invitational High School Forensic Tournament which is to be held in the annexes and other classrooms here at State College on Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6.

Anyone interested in, and capable of judging the speaking contests is invited to contact Henry Bartels, Debate Manager, in Annex A-6, or drop around to the Activities Room on the days of the tournament.

578 CAST BALLOTS

1,500 Still Missing

The San Francisco State Student Body must feel very proud of itself. They surely must. For while an election was being held in the Activities Room Friday, 578 students out of over 2,000 had the spirit to bestir themselves and cast a vote for their student body treasurer. Five hundred and seventy-eight students out of over two thousand were the only ones interested enough in who became treasurer of the student body for the year of 1939-40 to cast a vote.

In the Gater last Friday appeared a headline which stated, "Bob Sweeney Upsets Smith In Record Vote". That record vote totaled approximately 1,050, truly amazing for a student body exceeding 2,000! We don't think so either.

But perhaps a majority vote is merely an add-Utopia. Yet, we're still hoping for a San Francisco State that will support its athletic teams, its school name and its elections.

We pledge that from here on in, the Gater will lead the way.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED

Where's Applicants!

State students who are eligible to apply for the Sigma Alpha Eta scholarship are urged to do so immediately by Vernon Rees, fraternity president.

It is really ironical.

For the last year, and the year before, and the year before, the student body has howled for scholarships for athletes, scholars and students. Now that one is being given, Sigma Alpha Eta is winded, merely trying to get applicants.

It's a funny world.

We must assume that it ain't whatcha do, it's what it does.

Jack Hulbert in charge of gifts and finances for the dinner announced that something new and novel is now being worked out.

Jean Dooley, editor of the 1939 Franciscan will make the official presentation of the year book and dedication.

State Money Short States Prof Group

Per Student Cost, Maintenance Fund Among Nation's Low

Serious shortages in State appropriations for San Francisco State College operation were reflected in the annual report of the American Association of Teachers Colleges released Friday.

The expenditure per student for this college over the 1937-38 year was $225—below the tenth percentile for similar colleges the country over. Median for this item is $344.69. Maintenance and operation funds granted S. F. State placed it among the lowest five per cent in that classification.

The rapid rise in student enrollment without corresponding increase in the faculty places State well down in faculty service conditions, and the teaching load is heavier than average.

Quality of professorial talent is rated above the median, with more than twenty-two per cent of the staff holding Ph. D. degrees. The ratio of teachers with more than sixty hours (two years) of graduate study to their credit, to the total faculty list, showed that nearly fifty per cent of the instructors are in this class. In this State is one of the highest colleges in the country.

Apropriations for the library, one of the college administration's major headaches, is below the national median.

The California policy of support of public education lent a cheerful note to the report, showing that the State student pays an average of $27.66—$35 less than average for the country.

AWARD DINNER PRELUDE TO W.A.A. FESTIVE WEEK

The W.A.A. Annual Awards and Installation Dinner, scheduled for May 11, 6:30 p.m. in the Blue Room of the San Francisco Aquatic Park, will highlight a special week of campus activities featuring sport exhibitions sponsored by the W.A.A.

The dinner program will include the presentation of awards and honor pins, the installation of officers, and a brief talk by some well known speaker. The program committee is attempting to contact Dr. Jesse F. Williams.

Guests include Dr. and Mrs. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kimball and Miss Rose McGreevy. All women students of the College are invited to attend the affair.

Commencing the week's activities on Monday, May 8 will be a volleyball exhibition by two businessmen's teams in the Women's Gym. Badminton and ping-pong finals will be held Tuesday noon. At 7:30 p.m. there will be the Bracer in the gym, where women students may gather to participate in various group games.

A noon dance will be held on Wednesday in the gym, the Awards and Installation Dinner is scheduled for 6:30 Wednesday evening and a girls versus faculty softball game will be held Friday on the Upper Field.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

By ART MONSEES

The Question: Do you think there is a direct correlation between good college grades and success in a chosen career in later life?

June Paulson: A person that is good at angling good grades at college, should be good at angling a good position in later life. Yes, There is a direct correlation.

* * *

Ed Harris: Well! It all depends upon the circumstances. My philosophy of success in life is short and sweet. In all of it's simplicity, it boils down to the point that the quickest and surest way of success is to marry the bosses daughter.

* * *

Bette Pierce: I don't think that there is a direct correlation in this question. Success in later life depends upon the attention which you devote to your work, your own preparation made for the position, and ability to get along well with others.

* * *

Elmo Randall: That's a tough question, however, I think that good college grades will give an applicant for a job a better recommendation than the parasite who loafs his way through college.

* * *

Bernice Thomas: There is a definite correlation between success in college and success in later life. After all, isn't college merely the stepping stone to something bigger and finer later on?

* * *

Vic Lobree: Success in later life? Well! I'm not so sure that the successful apple polisher will be as good at polishing the old apple with some of these tough employers. My policy—let's not mention it, however, I think the WPA will still be in existence.

* * *

Flo Humphreys: Definitely NO! Students may apple polish at college in order to acquire descent grade. Hard work, after graduation, is the secret of success, and personality should not be denied here.

* * *

Ed Kohlhauf: Sure. College success is directly correlated with success in later life because it is merely a continuation of your activities. I respect the apple polisher because he devotes some interest in getting a better grade. Later, he will probably use a little polishing in order to get a raise. More power to him.

* * *

Frances Flagg: It follows to reason that a person who is successful at college will be successful in later life. However, there are individual circumstances which must be taken into consideration. Yet, I'm betting on the person who is successful in college.

* * *

Wilbur: Bachman: No, a thousand times no. Take the fellow that must earn his way through college. He probably does not make outstanding grades and yet he should be as successful as the student that does not have to work his way through college, although he may make better grades.

Sigma Pi Sigma Plans Initiation Of Three Men

Sigma Pi Sigma pledges will be given final instructions for their day of initiation, both informal and formal, which will take place Sunday, May 7.

Benny Souza, Jim King and Tony Bacich will be forewarned but not forearmed for the informal activities, which will commence in early morning and culminate in mid afternoon. Formal initiation will follow the informal program. President George Fenneman will head the formal rituals while vice president Louis Quartararo will lead the informal doings.

The initiation will follow three months of active pledging, during which time the pledges have been observed and tested. If successful in dispatching the required duties, they will be formally accepted as members Sunday. The ceremonies will be capped by a banquet at an announced local restaurant. STATE TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS DONS 6-3; IN SECOND-PLACE TIE WITH SANTA CLARA

RED WEEKES, fiery catcher, made a try for the fast strikes all season, playing an outstanding defensive game behind the plate. Showing an improvement over last season, Weekes batted 333 at the end of this season.

Doug Crary Sparks Team To Win; Back-Injury Defeats Jack Witt

Closing his collegiate tennis career with a brilliant exhibition, Doug Crary sparkplugged the State net squad to a win over the University of San Francisco last Saturday into a second place tie in the N. C. I. T. A. League race. The Dons receipted for two beating at the hands of Purple and Gold this season, with this last one ending with a 6-3 score.

Crary was in rare form in downing McCarthy of the Hilltoppers by easy scores, and teamed with Billy Hammon to cinch the day's competition with a well-earned victory in the doubles.

BACK INJURY

First-man Jack Witt, still suffering from a bad back, was an easy victim of Tom Clecak of the Dons, while Willard Lincoln and Billy Hammond also fell by the wayside. Ed Hohlhauf and Ken Kim accounted for U. S. F. singles victims, with Witt and Kohlhauf also triumphing in the first doubles. The third doubles was defaulted to State, as the opposition members had to go to work.

BREAKS EVEN

It can be seen that the team broke even in conference play, winning four and losing a like number. This is just about the best that State has done in recent years in the net sport; it is now tied for second place honors with Santa Clara. The Staters also scored an 8-1 non-conference victory over the Cal Aggies early in the season.

Tennis prospects are "on the up," what with this year's showing, the fact that seven lettermen plus several capable reserves will return for more competition, the completion of three fine courts right on the campus, and promises of several outstanding players in the Bay Region to attend State next year. Coach Dan Farmer is pleased with the results and the outlook, and regrets the graduation of Doug Crary, who has pulled many matches "out of the fire" in his three years' competition for the Golden Tide.

HAAS LETS ONE GO

CARL HAAS along with his teammate, George Mailho, took care of all the major pitching assignments this season. Haas dropped the first game with Cal Aggies after allowing only four hits.

Every day in the Salvation Army building there may be found a number of girls who have been arduously practicing for a Treasure Island dance program, scheduled for the California Building, for State Day at the Fair.

Months ago these girls signed up for rehearsals. Last Thursday dancers and teachers worked from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Members of Kappa Delta Tau and P. E. dance classes, as well as many girls not taking P. E., are well represented in the list of dancers.

State Tee Squad Tackles San Jose At Ingleside

With full strength for the first time in over a month, State's golf squad tangles with the strong San Jose State team this coming Saturday morning at Ingleside.

STEADY GAME

Featuring the divot diggers' return to form is the consistent shooting of newcomers Harry Robey and Runar Stone. Robey will team with Bob Robinson in the number two spot; Stone will pair with Gonzales Legarreta, in the number three.

For the sixth time this season, the number one duo of Dick Hawkins and Dave Schutz will try to turn back their opposition. In their first match against the Spartans, State's linksmen lost.

Sigma Pi Sigma Accepts Intramural Challenge

When Sid Fischer, representing the Music Federation, challenged Sigma Pi Sigma to a softball game, he wasn't fooling. His team is ready and Manager Bob Buckley of the Sigma boys is also ready. The game will be played on the Upper Field tomorrow at 12:15. The game will decide the championship of State College and should prove an interesting affair.

Intramural

Intramural athletics will have a new set-up next semester. The Intramural Committee, head by Director Dan Farmer, is working on a set of rules and regulations which will eliminate any possible chance of controversy. Mr. Farmer admits that the last year has been one of experiment, as far as intramurals were concerned.

The renewed interest in intramural activities is heartening and makes necessary an Intramural Board, which will include the Director of Intramural Athletics, Dan Farmer, Student Manager John Pichotto, a member of the Gater sports staff, and two appointees from the student body.

Sigma Pi Sigma showed power and speed by defeating the 39ers in last Thursday's game, 41-8, while Alpha Phi Gamma won their first game by default from the Newman Club. Jack McGann, Don McRitchie, and Alex Edelstein upheld the fraternity boys, while Davis and Foster played well for the 39ers.

Led by Cal Sanborn and John Finn, the Characters took the measure of the Whizzes last Friday, 38-14. P. E. 184 class showed up in full force and won by default from the Buzzard in the other game last Friday. Frank Bostick gathered in a squad of Gentlemen and soundly trounced Alpha Gamma, 30-15.

Important! All games will hereafter be played on the Upper Field. Frank Jackson, member of the Intramural Rules Committee, has mimeographed rules for volley ball. Managers can receive copies from Mr. Farmer.

Today's schedule: Fightin' Fools vs. Characters. Olson Tigers vs. Playground Directors.

OUCH! OUCH!

MUSTANGS TAKE TWO CONTESTS FROM TIDE NINE

McRitchie Scores On Hit, And Bangs Out Home Run As Team Loses 2 Games

Saturday's doubleheader baseball games against the Cal Aggies at Davis proved disastrous for the Golden Tide nine, as the Aggies copped both decisions 2-1 and 4-2. The Staters sparkled with brilliant fielding but failed to come through in the batting department.

Carl Haas, Tide hurler, lost a heartbreaker in the first game, allowing only four hits, while State collected only four. The Tide scored their only run in the third inning when Don McRitchie and Red Weekes both walked and Haas came through with a single to tally McRitchie.

The second game was just as close with State gathering five hits and the Aggies banging out four. Catcher Weekes caught both games with George Maihlo pitching the second one.

Besides playing fine ball in the infield, Don McRitchie crashed out a home run in the ninth inning of the second game with none on base.

TIDE SPIKESTERS WHIP COLLEGE OF PACIFIC 68-63

It might have been the weather, the water, the food, the track, or the expectation of seeing the G.G.I.E. that prompted the College of Pacific to turn in wonderful track and field performances as they lost a close meet to the Golden Tide at Kezar Saturday morning, 68 to 63. Pacific's Bengals pulled many a surprise and nearly knocked the Gater off its perch.

SPORT SHOTS

By JOHN PICHOTTO

Last Saturday marked the close of the baseball, track, and tennis season for the Golden Tide. Golf, boxing, ping-pong and badminton tourneys will end this week. But all is not lost . . . intramural volley ball continues until May 15 with the grand championship game scheduled for May 19.

While on the subject of intramurals, it is well to give credit where credit is due. So we congratulate the year-old fraternity, Sigma Pi Sigma, which has ably shown what may be accomplished when an aggressive group is organized whose primary objective is the support and enlargement of extra-curricular activities. Following in their broad pathway are two other groups, Phi Epsilon Mu and Playground Directors.

These teams have yet to default a game and to the respective managers of their intramural teams, Bob Buckley, Claude Hanrahan, and Frank Jackson, we say, may your tribe increase.

CONGRATULATIONS

Ronnie Lindlow, for reaching the finals in the Metropolitan Oakland Tennis Classification Tournament. Coach Hal Harden, for patiently nursing the first intercollegiate swimming team at State College. Len Duckworth, for patiently persisting in his belief that this college should have a fencing team . . . yes, we have one. "Bud" Werner, for patiently coaxing a group of boys to form an intercollegiate boxing squad. Werner has bigger and better plans for next semester. Luther Theofield, for joining the ranks of State's "Iron Men." Fred Kline, for copping first place in the Verdi Club six-mile marathon last Sunday.

SHORT SPORT SHOTS

San Francisco State will have a soccer team next fall. Mr. Richard Boyle and Mr. Daniel Farmer both taught at Orland Joint Union High School. Merely a coincidence. Three years ago, State College had a crew team. Constantine "Chili" Shelley was manager and many an hour they spent in joyful rowing. They called themselves the "Vulgar Boatmen." Whatever happened to the rowing team that was to be started by Jack Kelly? The same thing that happened to Jack Hulbert's bowling squad. Whatever happened to the ice skating club organized by Tassi and Robey? The same thing that happened to Lew Jost's flying club.

This time last year State was deep in verbal conflict with the honorable Dons on the U. S. F. hill. Alex Edelstein, then writing for the sport page, challenged them to a ping-pong battle to settle the issue. Fred Bender and Frank Gunner are ready. What is your answer, Don Juan?

Once again Luther Theofield, unable to attain his heights in the sprint events, bowed to "Flip" Richie in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. However, Luther regained his steps in the broad jump, and flew out 23 feet 4 inches to capture that event.

KLINE WINS

Fred Kline won the mile run in his custormary fashion, beating out Pacific's Nelson in the fairly good time of four minutes and thirty-eight seconds. Carolan took third.

In the quarter and half mile races, State men met their masters, as Pacific tracksters turned in faster times in both events than Staters have been able to hit all season.

Butler and Shepard won the high and low hurdles respectively for State. Carlson tossed the javelin some 164 feet for another five points, while Leavitt knocked over the two mile run.

Fred Kline, running for the Y.M.C.A., raced to victory in the Verdi Club's six-mile Mission Trail marathon in 31 minutes, 26 seconds Sunday morning. Dick Schwab, Richard Leavitt, and Craig Gaffney, all State trackmen, helped the Y.M.C.A. to capture the team trophy.

PING PONG FINALISTS VIE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeating Gordon Wilcox in the ping pong semi-finals yesterday 21-6 and 21-17, Frank Gunner advances to the final rounds to meet Fred Bender in the championship match. The final match is to be played in the gym Friday.

Behind Scenes Talk Features Alumni Dinner

"If the bill for the sale of the present site of the college secures favorable recommendation from the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly, it is almost certain to receive the necessary votes on the floor." That was the inspiring message delivered by Senator John Shelley Saturday night at the thirty-eighth birthday party of the Alumni Association.

In his "behind the scenes" discussion, Shelley revealed that nearly all legislation is viewed on partisan basis; but he believes the issues pertaining to the college are above partisan lines.

"I can appreciate the circumstances at the college," Shelley exclaimed. "Going to school in shacks is no fun. While attending Mission High School in 1920, it burned down and we attended classes in hastily constructed buildings for three years. The memory of that situation is still fresh in my mind. The present San Francisco State College buildings are a disgrace to the city and state."

Shelley paid a hearty tribute to President Alexander C. Roberts, Clifford Worth, Bob Sweeney and the Patrons Association for their help and interest in the bills pertaining to the college. He also asked Edgar Muller, Alameda County superintendent of schools, who was one of the Alumni's guest, to contact Assemblyman Meehan of Oakland, who voted against the sale of the present site.

In his address, Dr. J. A. Burkman, assistant state director of education, revealed that the college was operating on the exceedingly low cost of $185 per full time student. "That is entirely out of proportion to the needs, yet the Assembly Budget Committee proposes to cut the budget for the seven state colleges nearly one-half million dollars," he maintains.

Among the honored guests were Thomas Maloney, San Francisco assemblyman; Archibald Cloud, president of San Francisco J.C.; Bryan O. Wilson, superintendent of schools, Martinez; Virgil E. Dickson, superintendent of schools, Berkeley; and Edgar Muller, Alameda County superintendent.

Mrs. Katherine Young, president of the Alumni, was chairman of the evening which was climaxed by the cutting of the birthday cake by Mrs. Emily Axtell of Richmond, a graduate of the first class (1901). Entertainment was provided by Tom Bennet, who sang two popular selections accompanied by Aletha Wilcox. Among the highlights of the evening was the presentation of charters to five new county chapters.

Final Exam Schedule Has Longer Periods, Fewer Tests Per Day

It's time to hit the books! Finals will be given at San Francisco State College beginning May 16 and continuing until May 25.

With a few exceptions all classes will have their examinations on scheduled hours, corresponding with the daily routine followed throughout the semester. However, contrary to the past terms, finals have been scheduled for a duration of three hours instead of two.

Dean Valentine stated that, "The examination schedule is for the first time based upon periods of three hours in length. The faculty has agreed that one hour out of three, at each scheduled period, shall be devoted to make up examinations for those students who have been permitted to make up tests missed during the semester.

This schedule, by providing only two examinations per day, will prevent the possibility of any student having to take an undue number of examinations on a given date."

KLEINECKE HONORED BY LIBRARY SECTION, MARBLE WALL PLACQUE

Honoring the memory of Miss Mary L. Kleinecke, the college has ordered her portrait executed in a marble bas-relief. The work will be done as a Federal Art Project of the WPA.

It is planned that the placque will be set in the wall of the library English section on the proposed new campus. The section will be called The Mary L. Kleinecke Memorial Library.

A similar placque, of the late Dean C. J. DuFour, will occupy a like position in the Clarence J. DuFour Memorial Library (Social Sciences). The latter work now rests, along with plaster placques of John Swett, founder of public education in California, and former Presidents Archibald Anderson and Frederick Burk, in the office vault of the training school.

S. F. State Hosts N. E. A., P. E. To Present Program

State is making preparation to act as host for the National Education Association Conference to be held in San Francisco, July 3. Due to recent voting of the college faculty, State will become affiliated with the N.E.A. and will be entitled to all rights and privileges guaranteed by the parent association. By being thus affiliated State also becomes a local unit of the National Education Association.

The Physical Education Department of State will be responsible for providing a program concerning these fields during the July conferences and Mrs. F. H. Stevenson of the department will be in charge.

Kline Elected Treasurer In Run-off Vote

Fred Kline topped Vern Oulette in the tie-breaking race for the position of student body treasurer.

Kline stated that he was very glad he had won the long race. "I am in my fourth year now and would like to continue working for State College. I shall keep my campaign promises."

The run-off election was held last Friday, following the upset experienced in the tabulation of votes for the other student body offices. Kline and Oulette were forced to resume campaigning until the final decision of the tie-breaker.

NEW COURSES ADDED TO FALL CURRICULA

Several new courses are to be added to the fall curricula, Dean Homan disclosed today, though no radical changes are to be made.

A discussion of Everyday Living will be carried on by Dr. Ruth Thompson in Psychology 2. History 1, Dr. Treutlein and Mr. Gibson, is intended for those in teacher training and is a survey of world history. Government 40-X will satisfy the desires of those interested in political relationships. It is taught by Mrs. Cowell Sociology 65 has been so successful that Mrs. Monroe has decided to repeat it next fall. The return of Mrs. Witt-Diamant will find the corresponding reappearance of English 157, American Literature, and English 186, Contemporary Verse. The present designation of those courses has been changed to Physical Science 1, 2, 3, etc. replacing the system in use at present.
